

Walk Two Moons	The Watsons Go To Birmingham dissuade – persuade someone not to do something or believe something	boycott – to refuse to have dealings with or refuse to buy as a protest infinitely – has no limit or end	confrontation – a dispute, fight, or battle between two groups of people mill – to move about in a wandering way	pervasive – to spread through or throughout ogle – to stare at in a flirting way	provoke – deliberately annoy to try to get a reaction quizzical – perplexed or questioning	quest – a long and difficult search for something roster – a list of people for a job, class, team, etc.	strive – make a great effort to do or get it